Coaching2Connect Certification

Our coach certification provides leaders with real actionable tools, ideas and techniques they can take back with them to dramatically improve their leadership effectiveness.

EXPLORE – Go deeper into human capital concepts that will stretch the boundaries of how you think about yourself and other people. We help you understand how to make conditions right for improved communication, trust and engagement.

CHALLENGE – Question and confront established beliefs about yourself and others. We enable the kind of breakthrough moments that are hard to engineer at big conferences or in everyday work settings.

CONNECT – Every day features a balance between learning human behavior principles in leadership, teambuilding, physical activity, and/or quiet reflection time. Our focus is on personal growth, well-being and the soft skills side of leadership (relationships).

Includes all meals, lodging, activities and shuttle to and from the Chalet from the Ottawa International Airport  Excludes flights to and from Ottawa

Limited to 6 participants
Program Cost $2,950 US

This certification workshop is for leadership professionals who are serious about improving their skills with people.

You will learn:

- Self-awareness: how our core character strengths serve as the foundation for how we influence others in leadership.
- How to maximize interpersonal skills – listen, learn and connect
- How to improve communication skills – communicate & connect
- How to influence positive change with people
- Our 7-step process for dealing with difficult people
- How to lead in uncertain or difficult times.
- How to set expectations with people
- How to break down barriers to achieve full confidence in self
- How to develop a personal leadership philosophy and growth plan
- How to give inspirational and motivational presentations
- How to build, maintain or regain momentum on a team

We have a dream

History has taught us that in every generation, a leader was called upon to meet the needs of the hour. We surmised that there has always been and will always be an opportunity for leaders to practice their craft and add value to people.

We believe that through the power of connection, every leader gets the opportunity to make a difference for their families, teams and for their generation. Fortunately for us, we have been introduced to a few great people like you.

- Our dream places priority on the quality of relationships in life.
- Our dream allows us to invite growth and spiritual connections to influence our thinking.
- Our dream requires us to trust and believe in what is in front of us, since our dream is bigger than any of our gifts, abilities and connections.
- Our dream will materialize with leaders who believe in offering their strengths and love to others.

Please join us on our mission to meet the needs of this hour.
